

The motivation to enter to the IE Master in Business for Architecture and Design (MBArch) or IE Master in Strategic Interior Design (MSID)

Firstly, I would like to express my gratitude to IE University for having this scholarship competition and giving future generations a leverage. I envision this scholarship award will be able to help me greatly towards my Masters in Architecture and my aspirations of one day having not only a successful but also inspiring career as a promising Architect.

International pursuit in academics is not an opportunity everyone gets, and the motivation behind this is so that I can truly dedicate my full attention and focus without worrying much on the financial condition that I am in. The scholarship will greatly aid me in the future as it will ease the financial situation at home. With the scholarship, I will be able to devote myself wholly in the program and participate in any relevant activities that could potentially help me grow as a young architect. This scholarship is a major deciding factor if one is given the opportunity to experience the local culture and further develop oneself academically and personally. Speaking from a South-East Asia perspective, the potential is vast and endless, learning a new language, experiencing new cultures, making meaningful relationships with new people, learning new skills and more. Just by thinking of the idea of getting the scholarship gets me excited and could not fathom where it could lead me.

Years from now, I see myself not just a simple employee at an architecture firm, but a well-equipped and inspiring architect to others, creating architecture and making a difference one small step at a time and eventually making big changes for the better. I would be grateful and blessed if I was awarded a scholarship to help fulfil my dream and I will give my all and do my best to not only be a successful student but an outstanding Architect and as an individual.
